6. Précis: Recently, Mainland China has seen an increasing interest in the studies of the history of Christianity, complementing the ongoing studies in this field in Hong Kong and Taiwan. Nevertheless, both Mainland Chinese scholarship and overseas scholarship are rather lacking in the systematic research of Christian theological education, the 'crown of the missionary endeavour', especially theological education in Christian universities, which is the apex of Chinese theological education. The publication of this volume is to fill in this lacuna.

The book consists of three chapters.
